Richards	Cuyahoga	Cleveland Heights	$2,273	The master will teach apprentice Charlie Mosbrook the acoustic guitar techniques and musical style of the Piedmont Blues tradition. This genre developed during the early 20th century within African American communities throughout the southern Appalachian region of the United States known as the Piedmont region. The master will meet with the apprentice twice monthly, focusing on Mosbrook's finger picking skills. The program will culminate with a public performance by master and apprentice in the Cleveland area in 2021, featuring at least one original composition.

Traditional Arts Apprenticeship	Weichih Lee	Cuyahoga	Solon	$1,879	The master will undertake an apprenticeship in Chinese zither music with apprentice Kaitlyn Zeng. This will be the first time that the apprentice has learned the zither, so teaching will focus on fundamental skills and technique like hand positioning and rhythmic note values. The master and apprentice will meet for one hour, once a week, with the apprentice performing two short pieces at the master's annual zither workshop.
Traditional Arts Apprenticeship	Hans Utter	Franklin	Columbus	$2,731	The master will undertake an apprenticeship in Indian tabla with apprentice Leela Poudyel. The master and apprentice will meet once or twice a week for 12 months. The master will instruct the apprentice on the Nepali tabla styles and folk traditions, as well as Hindustani music and styles. The skills and techniques taught will consist of the foundational, theoretical, practical, contextual, and creative. The apprentice will perform in a variety of events for the larger South Asian community in Ohio.

Traditional Arts Apprenticeship	Utpola Borah	Franklin	Columbus	$2,273	The master will undertake an apprenticeship in North Indian classical vocal music with apprentice Neha Shah for the second time. The master will focus on the aesthetics of genres already covered and the embellishments for thumri, the expression of song texts, and more complex improvisations and ragas. They will meet once or twice a week through the duration of the apprenticeship.
Traditional Arts Apprenticeship	Elaina Hernandez	Lucas	Toledo	$2,103	The master will undertake an apprenticeship in Mexican folkloric dance and culture with apprentice Vanessa Hernandez. This is the second apprenticeship between the master and apprentice, and they will work together for 10 hours weekly, focusing on Mexican folkloric dance traditions, practice, and education. During the apprenticeship, they will focus on the dance and cultural history of two regions of Mexico: Chiapas and Colima. The master will also instruct the apprentice in teaching skills needed to lead further generations in this tradition. The apprenticeship will conclude with community performances and instruction in 2021.

Traditional Arts Apprenticeship	Marta Cook	Hamilton	Cincinnati	$2,941	The master will undertake an apprenticeship with apprentice Veronika Stanichar on the Irish harp, focusing on authentic approaches in three major areas of solo repertoire: Irish dance music, slow airs, and music of the 17th- and 18th-century harper-composers. At the end of the apprenticeship, Stanichar will prepare a 60-minute lecture-recital in a poised presentation that will represent the Irish harp tradition to diverse audiences, at locations such as libraries and schools. The master will give apprentice 50 hours of live instruction, supplementing with weekly video and recorded lessons.
